

Gold's Gym Classic Training Gloves with Half-Finger Design

Weight-lifting gloves are an excellent way to protect your hands from developing uncomfortable calluses without sacrificing the quality of your workout. Gold's Gym, one of the most trusted names in fitness, has developed these Classic Training Gloves with you in mind. The half-finger design maintains your ability to feel the weight of the bar beneath your fingers while protecting your palms from pinching. A velcro strap provides you with a customizable glove that will adjust to fit your hands. Synthetic microfiber padded palms make for an enjoyable wearing experience that perfectly supplements your weight lifting routine, while a breathable design means that your hands will stay cool and dry while you work out. Weight lifting gloves can increase your grip strength and allow you to hold more weight without worrying about slippage. Protect your hands and work towards the physique you've always wanted with these classic training gloves from Gold's Gym.
